Stockholders to Stand Loss—Depositors to Be Repaid $3,122,758

Bank examiners yesterday closed the Security State Savings Bank pending investigation of the institution's finances. All of $3,122,758 deposits will be repaid. It was announced, and the only loss will be to stockholders.

The bank, the second largest of its kind in Waukegan was until his death eight months ago, controlled by Theodore Dust, former Waukegan Mayor.

A new bank building, under construction, probably will be taken over by another Waukegan institution, is the report.

Exchanges

Judging from the fine interurban station they are building the M. & R. & L. Co. have considerable faith in the future growth of Burlington, even more so than many who live there. A traveling man in that city the other day who was inspecting the building said it was the finest interurban station in the state outside of Milwaukee. It may be a couple of months yet before the building is ready for occupancy, as some delay has been experienced in getting the building material.

There is little doubt, but the bandits who held up the Broadhead bank bought the tanks they stowed in the road at Evansville. Jack Meyer says that a group of men answering the newspaper description, ate lunch at his place and C. J. Smith states that the one dressed in the blue suit purchased two pounds of roofing nails about an inch in length at his store. The nails picked Geo. Brautigan, fell off the truck with those purchased at the Evansville store.

Walter Johnson, the 11-year-old boy who was slipping a ride on an ice truck driven by J. Cooper and Geo. Brautigan, fell off the truck under the back wheel, which passed over him, just below the abdomen, had both legs broken and one hip cracked. The boys took the young lad to the Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, where everything has been done to help make the boy comfortable. The bones were so badly crushed that a certain length of time had to be allowed him before setting, but he is holding his own and his many friends hope that he can soon be placed in a more comfortable position. — Grayslake Times.

The Public Service Company has commenced the work of putting in a 6 inch gas feeder main from Volo to Fox Lake. It will take gas to Round Lake and Ingleside. The extension, a stretch of 9 miles, probably will be completed December 1. The welding is being done by the Locomotive Terminal Improvement Company.

Hunt, has been busy for the past two weeks resurfacing the alleys and putting everything in shipshape for the opening of the season. Hunt's Recreation Parlor is known far and wide as one of the largest and finest in this part of the state, the outfit consisting of four bowling alleys, one billiard and three pocket billiard tables.

Lovers of bowling are planning to start Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a league for the Bowling Association, Antioch league, and the Antioch Business Men's league of four teams, had a successful season.

Football Season Opens Saturday

Woodstock to Be Local's First Opponent—Coach Watson Announces Schedule

Antioch Township High School opens Football Season at Woodstock on Saturday, Sept. 25, with the strong Woodstock Community High as their opponents.

Antioch should have one of the strongest teams in the history of the school as there are twelve former letter men on the squad and plenty of good reserve material.

The squad has been strengthened by the addition of two new men who have had plenty of previous football experience. Paul Thompson, who has played two years with Bower High of Chicago, will be a welcome addition to the line and Arlio Gillett, of Allendale will make some of the regulars step to hold down their back field positions.

There is a squad of about 30 men out every night and this is what it takes to make a good football team. There will be some games scheduled for the second team in order to keep up the interest.

The 1926 Football Schedule is as follows:

Sept. 25—Antioch at Woodstock.
Oct. 2—McHenry at Antioch.
Oct. 9—Antioch at Waukegan.
Oct. 16—Antioch at Arlington Heights.
Oct. 23—Warren at Antioch.
Oct. 30—Open.
Nov. 6—Barrington at Antioch.
Nov. 11—Libertyville at Antioch.
Nov. 17—Open.

BARRINGTON WANTS

BETTER LIGHTS

It is proposed that the resident lights, 120 in number of 60 candle power each, be increased to 100 candle power. The lights in the business section are 250 candle power and it is proposed to increase them to 400 candle power. The estimated additional cost would be about 25 cents per month per light.

County Farm Bureau Endorses Exposition

Business Exposition and Farm Products Fair to Be a Hummer

With the inclusion of many farm exhibits for the most liberal prizes ever offered in the county and the enthusiastic endorsement and help of the Lake County Farm Bureau, it is the general belief that the Business Exposition and Farm Products Fair to be held at Waukegan next week, Sept. 27 to Oct. 2, will compensate in a large measure the loss of the Lake County fair, an honored institution of so many years standing.

The Exposition is not in any sense a money-making scheme, the officials have announced, and there are to be no "Wheel-of-Fortune," no carnival schemes, no gambling and no obscene shows permitted, but the whole show is to be just a high-class exhibit by the farmers and the boys and girls of the farm, and legitimate business concerns. Over 175 cash prizes are offered and over 300 exhibits are now assured.

Poultry Sale to Be Feature

Farmers and poultrymen will be interested to know that the sale of purebred pullets raised by the 170 club members in Lake County the past year will be one of the big features of the Waukegan Business Men's Exposition. There will be between 400 and 500 of these purebred birds of fifteen different breeds, all from purebred stock and good producing strains. The sale starts at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at the big agricultural exposition tent near the Court House. It looks like there will be a good demand for these birds that our boys and girls raised this summer under the supervision of the Farm Bureau. Col.

A number of additional prizes have been offered to make the show more interesting and attractive to all farmers. In addition to the very attractive prizes offered the boys and girls themselves, many prizes have been added which opens up the show to all farmers, whether club members or not.

The Exposition in itself will be a big affair. Every farmer should plan to come—not only to come but to bring some of his grain, corn, poultry, potatoes or other products for which such good premiums have been offered. Saturday is the farmers special day, and the day of the pullet sale. A big entertainment is on that day for the children, and the items of show and entertainment are big for every day. Watch for the announcement.

Antioch Boy Has Great Success as a Shepherd

Robert Alvers persuaded his father to purchase eleven ewes in the fall of 1924. A pure bred Shropshire ram was also secured at that time and the entire flock was turned over to Robert.

During the year of 1924-1925 his total income and increase in inventory amounted to $202.42. Feed, labor cost, rent on land and buildings, and interest on investment totaled $106.34 netting him a profit of $96.08. Considering that this profit was made on an outlay of $101.00, the original cost of the flock, Robert has done very well his first year.

This year Robert is continuing his work with sheep. Last spring eleven of his ewes lambed 19 lambs, Ram lambs were marketed locally at a dressed price of 33 cents per lb. All the practices such as dipping, trimming feet, docking and castrating are followed at the Alvers farm. Cross Lake Farm is the name given the place by Charles, an older brother of Robert's.

Last spring 85 lbs. of wool were marketed from 14 head. The flock this year is in a good condition and will go into winter quarters where it will be fed mainly on alfalfa hay. Prospects for a more profitable year are encouraging.

Kenosha Fair Begins Today

The West Kenosha County Fair starts at Willmet today and will run until Saturday night. Preparations for the largest fair ever held in the history of the association have been made, as the great increase in the number of entries in all departments has necessitated the fair board providing about twice the space as has been used in former years.

Excessive Rain Is Damage to Crops

Farmers in Midst of Most Trying Period, Says County Advisor

Farmers of Lake county stand to lose grain crops valued at more than a quarter million dollars unless there is a prolonged period of dry weather and warmer days in the opinion of John J. Doerschuk, county farm advisor. The situation is regarded as the most serious that faced farmers of this county in many years.

Regardless of what kind of weather that nature deals out in the county within the next week or two, losses due to the heavy rains of the last two weeks will run into many thousands of dollars for the farmer.

10,000 Acres Involved
At least one third of the small grain crop in the county is still in the fields and near the stage of rot. This means that almost 10,000 acres of oats, wheat, barley and such are still to be harvested.

In placing the possible loss through the continuation of rainy weather at nearly $255,000. Mr. Doerschuk is, it is believed, placing his estimate at a very conservative figure.

Corn Also Damaged
But while the fields of small grain are in the most imminent danger of destruction and are creating conditions that are giving farmers most concern, still the delay in maturity of corn is also a matter of much worry to agriculturists of the county.

Corn is still growing, although at this time of the year it should have reached its maturity and near the age of ripening. A month of warm sunshine is needed to save the corn of the county, Mr. Doerschuk declares.

Continued rains and delay of ripening of the corn until a frost strikes it would bring about serious conditions, it is pointed out. Some farmers now fear that their entire crop of corn will be of no value except for silage purposes.

Loss to Be Felt Severely

Loss to the farming interests of this great portion of its crop will be felt generally in business circles of the county, it is believed. The condition is not confined purely to Lake county but is almost general in northern and central Illinois and southern Wisconsin with farmers of this county feeling the brunt of the vagaries of nature a bit more severely than those of other counties.

"It is surely an unpleasant situation, made more disagreeable by the fact that the farmer is powerless to correct it. He must stand by and watch destruction of grains which he has worked for months at much expense to produce," the farm advisor stated by way of stressing the plight of the Lake county farmers.

REALIZE $300 FROM LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

A meeting of the Citizen's association and Fire Department was held last Friday evening, at which a financial report was made of the Grayslake Day celebration. The reports showed that the receipts were about $1050, and after all expenses were paid, about $300.00 was cleared, which will be divided between the two organizations.

Edwin Hucker had the misfortune to fall out of a tree in which he was gathering apples, breaking his wrist in two places Monday. Dr. Beebe and Dr. Warriner were called to set the bone. He was taken to Waukegan on Tuesday where he had an x-ray picture taken of the broken wrist.

T. J. Tronson Buys Walter's Studio

Lake Villa Man Takes Charge of Antioch Photo Gallery Sept. 15.

A business change of interest to residents of this entire locality was made last week when T. J. Tronson, an experienced photographer, of Lake Villa, purchased of Walter Knudson, the latter's business, known as Walter's Studio, on Lake street, the new owner taking charge of the business on Sept. 15.

Due to his courteous treatment of customers and high quality work, Mr. Knudson has built up a very fine business in this locality, and as Antioch is considered a very good stand for a photographic business, it goes without saying that Mr. Tronson is very well pleased with his purchase. As his assistant Mr. Tronson has retained the services of M. Torerchiff, late of the Celebrity studio of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Knudson and family have announced to friends that they expect to leave by auto for Hollywood, California, about the first of October.

VINCENNES TO BUY FT. SACKVILLE SITE

Want Land for Geo. Rogers Clark Memorial.

Vincennes, Ind.—The city of Vincennes has just taken the first formal action for purchase of part of the site of old Fort Sackville, in the passage of an ordinance by the city council, under suspension of the rules, for the issuance of $40,000 of bonds with which to make the purchase.

Several weeks ago the Vincennes citizens leading in the movement for the George Rogers Clark sesquicentennial obtained options on the property for the city of Vincennes. Mayor Claude Gregg and his board of public works has now ordered the options closed, and notice has been given to the owners that the purchases will be consummated.

The property to be bought by the city of Vincennes includes the Edison warehouse at First and Vigo streets and all the property of the same depth between Vigo and Barnett streets, including the St. John's hotel.

As soon as the city acquires the title to the property, the buildings will be razed, and the ground prepared for beautification.

The George Rogers Clark sesquicentennial commission, headed by William Fortune of Indianapolis, is planning for the sesquicentennial observance of the capture of Fort Sackville by George Rogers Clark, in 1793 and 1893, as the major part of its program for observance of the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the conquest of the old northwest territory by Clark.

Capture Came as Climax.

The capture of the fort at Vincennes was the great heroic and important military event of the whole revolution west of the Allegheny mountains. It was the climax of the campaign led by Clark which shattered British control of the region north of the Ohio river.

It is the purpose of the commission to purchase the remainder of the old fort site, and the erection thereon of the national memorial to Clark. Other plans of the commission provide for a historical pageant portraying the important events of the Clark campaign, as well as early pioneer life, and for celebrations at other places in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois where events of the Clark expedition occurred.

Collie Hikes 1,700 Miles in Returning to Home

Benton Harbor, Mich.—A distance of 1,700 miles, a journey of a day across two river courses were not enough to prevent Pal, a four-year-old collie, from returning to his Benton Harbor home from Florida, where he had gone with his master.

The trip to Florida was made last spring. Three weeks after arriving there, Pal disappeared. Four weeks later he reappeared in Benton Harbor.

Pal had dropped in weight from 72 to 55 pounds, and his claws were worn smooth from his travels, but he was as glad to get home as though he merely had been making a night's journey.

KILLS UNCLE IN SQUABBLE OVER TRACT OF LAND

Boy's Aim Deadly in Duel Precipitated by Quarrel of Elders.

Lexington, Ky.—Samuel Whitaker, sixteen-year-old son of a prominent Magoffin county family, has just been released on $20,000 bond at Salersville, Ky., southeast of here, for the alleged murder of his uncle, Jesse Hale.

The trouble started between William Whitaker, forty years old, and his brother-in-law, Jesse Hale, thirty-five years old, in regard to a tract of land, the ownership of which was claimed by both. The elder Whitaker failed to shoot down his brother-in-law and was on the point of being killed himself, when his son, Sam Whitaker, appeared on the scene.

His Only Shot Fatal.

Sam coolly asked for his father's weapon and challenged Hale to come out in the open and fight him. At the first shot young Whitaker put a bullet through his uncle's heart, thus ending the battle, according to reports received here.

Young Whitaker was taken to Salersville, the county seat, by his father and another uncle, W. B. Sheppard, and released on $20,000 bond.

According to reports, the trouble was precipitated when Hale and his son came upon the Whitakers and a crew of workmen constructing a road through the land in dispute. The elder Hale, it is claimed, immediately opened fire, and a dozen men, including the Whitakers, scurried to safety behind trees and rocks.

Fight From Behind Trees.

Hale and the elder Whitaker, brothers-in-law, concealed behind trees, in Indian fashion, started to shoot it out. Their defenses proved impenetrable, and young Sam Whitaker, according to reports, grew tired of watching his father's shots bury themselves in the tree.

"You're doing no good," Sam told his father, and, taking his weapon, challenged Hale to step out in the open and fight like a man.

Hale accepted the taunt and moved from behind his tree, facing his challenger. Both fired, apparently simultaneously. Hale fell, shot through the breast, and died within five minutes. Young Whitaker was untouched.

Hale is survived by his widow, his mother, nine children and a number of sisters and brothers.

Sent to Prison for Fatally Beating Child

Hastings, Minn.—Anthony Lucking, farmer of Marshall, alleged to have beaten to death his eight-year-old orphaned nephew, Arthur Mauer, has been sentenced to state prison for from one to fifteen years.

Lucking's trial started in the District court and six jurors had been selected when the defendant decided to plead guilty to a charge of second-degree manslaughter, saying he "wanted to get it over with."

Arthur died of a cerebral hemorrhage after he had been whipped with a rubber hose. The beating was administered because Lucking thought the lad had stolen 65 cents, according to county authorities. The money was found in a bureau drawer the day after the child died.

Hypnotized Lion Wakes, Tears Arm Off Trainer

Berlin.—The iron will of a man, seriously wounded and suffering agonies of pain, but triumphing over a lion's ferocity, was witnessed at a Hamburg circus by panic-stricken thousands. Herr Lahero, who specializes in experiments of human will power over the world's most ferocious animals, had cowed a powerful lion into unconsciousness, but when the lion reawakened he buried his claws into the shoulder of the artist, leaving only shreds of his arm. Herr Lahero stared at the attacking lion, which subsided into unconsciousness. Lahero was then helped out of the cage by attendants and doctors.

Thistle Raising Profitable

The teasel, a cactus-like thistle, provides the only entirely satisfactory means of carding wool, removing the burr and bringing up the nap. Consequently in some parts of the world, especially in England, in northern New York and in Oregon, raising thistles for the wool manufacturing industry is a regular business. Teasels were introduced into America by William Snooks, an Englishman, in 1820.

The Richardsons had the Right Idea

They figured it out this way: Why should they ultimately bear the cost of a new wood floor when, with judicious applications of Acme Quality Floor Paint, they could keep the old floor beautiful and easier to clean and also preserve indefinitely its wearing qualities? So, when the floor began to wear, they quickly put a stop to it with Acme Quality. A 40-year reputation for dependability with a product for every type of floor finish.

Sound Waves

The bureau of standards says that two sound waves meeting each other so that the condensation part of one wave meets the rarefaction part of the other will neutralize each other. Strike a tuning fork and twirl it slowly about its axis. The sound will become faint four times in a revolution, where the two sound waves from the two prongs interfere with each other.

Goat's Milk Valuable

People do not always realize that goat's milk is free from "T. B." and is especially suitable for children. The milk globules are much smaller than are those of cow's milk, consequently it is more easily digested. The milk does not readily sour, and is particularly nice to have during warm weather on that account.

Ancient Welsh Custom

In ancient days a person managing to erect a dwelling in one night on common land in Wales was held to be its owner and nobody could disturb his tenure, according to the Dearborn Independent. These rhodes were generally raised of peat or turf, and known in Welsh as "Taf Un-no" (one night's house).

Doctor Operates in 60-Mile Gale at Sea

New York.—With three men holding the operating table to steady it, and Captain Volberg keeping the Scandinavian liner United States headed into a 60-mile gale, Dr. Knud Bjerring, ship's surgeon, successfully removed the appendix from John E. C. Anderson, dancer of the Royal Danish ballet.

The United States was off the Grand banks, heading for Halifax. Anderson was landed at Halifax.

On arrival here Captain Volberg received a radiogram from the hospital at Halifax announcing Anderson was expected to recover and that the operation appeared to have been performed just in time.

TELLS OF MURDER WHILE ETHERIZED

Hospital Patient Talks Coming Out of Anesthetic.

Atlanta, Ga.—Babbling out the secrets of a murder which had long puzzled authorities of Fayette county, Georgia, a woman who was under an anesthetic for an operation implicated her own father in the crime.

The hospital patient whose uneasy mind forced incriminating words from her lips while she was unconscious is Mrs. Eula Samuels. She was a patient in a hospital here when she let slip her secret.

Then consciousness came and Mrs. Samuels found the sheriff by her bedside. Then she told almost all she knew about the killing of James Langston, a rural letter carrier of Fayetteville, Ga., whose lifeless body, the head shattered by blows from a heavy instrument, was found near his abandoned machine.

Events moved swiftly after the sheriff's conversation with Mrs. Samuels. The jealous wife of another suspect was questioned, and the alleged leader of the moonshine band which had planned the murder broke down and confessed.

It appears that Langston, a law-abiding churchman, had run about of the bootleggers by discovering tangible evidence of the existence and location of their stills. He told the authorities.

Enraged, the distillers determined to close his mouth permanently. John Waller, father of Mrs. Samuels, plotted the crime.

The upshot of Mrs. Samuels' revelations while she was coming out of the ether has been drastic. Eight men tried for the murder—eight men con-

Youth Solves Mystery of Aged Man's Death

Los Angeles, Calif.—A boy fifteen years old has solved the mysterious slaying of M. P. Virgil, ninety-one-year-old hermit, who disappeared from his little cabin in Tulare county, Calif., almost a year ago. The boy is Michael Smith. Through evidence which he uncovered police have arrested Francisco Maehlas, Mexican rancher. He is accused of murdering the aged man and will be tried soon.

Michael had an idea that Maehlas killed the hermit to get a fortune the aged man was supposed to have hidden in his cabin. He had a conference with the district attorney and was told to see what he could learn about the case. The boy detective got acquainted with Ben, the young son of the Mexican rancher. The boys began searching for a buried treasure. Michael telling Ben that he was the only person who knew where it was hidden. While the boys worked together they talked—until Ben told how he had seen his father bury the body of the aged hermit in a well on his ranch.

The authorities arrested the Mexican and recovered the body. The prisoner denied killing the aged man, but after many hours of questioning said he had slain him during a quarrel and in self-defense. Later the suspect said the hermit died of typhoid fever and that he had buried the body to prevent contagion. County authorities, however, believe the Mexican killed the hermit as he slept in his cabin.

Leaps to Engine That Crashes Into Truck

Philadelphia.—Harold Burgess, eighteen years old, Camden, probably saved his own life by climbing from an automobile truck, which he had been driving, to the cowcatcher of a shifting engine on the Pennsylvania railroad after the engine had crashed into the machine.

His feat was performed while the engine dragged the automobile truck about 125 feet before it came to a stop. Burgess was rushed to the hospital, where it was found he suffered only nervous shock.

Voice and Hearing Restored by Fright

Lawrence, Mass.—Frightened by a policeman's flashlight, George Gibbs, deaf and dumb for nine years since he was wounded in the World war, is talking and hearing again. "You fool," shouted Gibbs as the flashlight was turned into his face while he slept in an empty house on Auburn street. They were the first words he had uttered since a bullet pierced his cheek in 1917 while he fought with the Princess Pat regiment of Canada in France.

RESCUE OF MAN AT SEA HAILED AS MIRACULOUS

Falls Overboard Unnoticed, Ship Sails on, Then Returns to Save Him.

New York.—The story of how a man overboard was recovered from the midnight waters of the South Atlantic ocean, although he was not reported missing until his vessel had steamed past him for nearly an hour, was contained in a concise entry in the log book of the Norton-Lilly company's freighter Ripley Castle, which arrived here recently.

His name was Tony Madison, thirty-five years old, an American citizen, and he was on the ship's papers as a coal trimmer. Before he was rescued he was bitten twice by a small fish, probably a bonita, and badly frightened by attacks of large sea birds. The officers of the weather-beaten 7,000-ton cargo vessel were inclined to regard the whole thing as miraculous.

Lays Rescue to Prayer. "It was a true miracle, and the direct work of Providence," said the chief officer. "While I was steaming back toward the man I prayed, and he prayed in the water. It was no coincidence that we rescued him. Without God's assistance it could never have happened. The officers of the Ripley Castle, the boat has a speed of ten knots. That means that she must have traveled nearly ten miles before she turned back to look for him. It was pitch black and a fairly heavy ground swell was running. In addition, the freighter was in the midst of an equatorial current with a speed of two knots. This added to the difficulties of setting a course back to him, yet when his cries for assistance were heard, he was only a hundred yards away.

According to the log, the man was reported missing at 1:10 a. m., when the Ripley Castle was about forty miles south of the equator. He had been last seen at 12:30 a. m., going on deck from the bunkers. Capt. George Sinclair immediately ordered the ship searched. He then turned her back on her course and ordered full steam ahead.

Hear Faint Cry for Help. At 1:35 a faint cry for help was heard by the chief officer, who was on the forecabin. He ordered two life buoys, equipped with darts, thrown overboard. Madison, struggling in the water, could be seen by their light. The steamer was stopped and an accident boat was launched. It was in charge of the chief officer. At 2:10 Madison was on the freighter's deck and the vessel was again on her way.

As soon as he was sufficiently recovered he was questioned by the captain. He said he had felt dizzy. He came up on deck for air and a drink of water. As he reached out for what he thought was the pump handle, everything went black before him. The next thing he knew he was in the water.

Wolf Caught After Eluding Trap Twice

Ishpeming, Mich.—Emil Skoglund, trapper, caught a large timber wolf after it had twice escaped from one of his traps. The animal got into his trap twice in June.

Last week it again got venture, some because of hunger and was trapped. The wolf chewed up a clog four inches thick which was used as a stake and then dragged the trap a mile away to a marsh, where it hid. Skoglund's dog trailed the animal and a fight followed. Skoglund came upon them while they were battling. He tied the wolf's legs with a rope and brought the animal in alive.

Parrot Chews Matches, Then Perishes in Fire

Chicago.—A parrot chewing matches was responsible for a fire which destroyed a roadhouse near Chicago. The bird paid for its act with its life, being suffocated by smoke. A dozen persons, sleeping in the place, were overcome and had to be carried to safety by firemen.

Run Down by Car, Apologizes to Driver

Kansas City, Mo.—One man in a million is Frank Bruce. When an automobile knocked him down, bruised his body and tore his clothing, Bruce got to his feet, smiled and apologized to the driver. "I'm sorry," he said. "It was all my fault."

JEALOUSY OF SONS MOTIVE FOR MURDER

Kills Wife With Hammer and Buries Body.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Accosted by his wife as he tapped a barrel of wine in the cellar of his home, Agostino Izzo, fifty-one, killed her with a hammer, placed her body in a four-foot box and had it hauled to a deserted spot on the shore of Lake Onondaga, seven miles away, police here say.

"I killed her while the seven children were away," Izzo sobbed to the police. "Not since then have I been able to rest. I fall asleep and dream of her."

He was insanely jealous of his grown sons, Izzo told police in a detailed confession of his crime. His wife had argued with him over a check for $12.15, and he was about to drown his sorrows, he said, when she rushed at him with a butcher knife.

Izzo said he grabbed the hammer to defend himself. His wife lunged with the knife and he swung, intending to strike her on the shoulder, he said, but the blow landed on her head. She fell dead.

Immediately Izzo procured holy water and blessed the body of his dead wife. He dressed her in her best clothes and dragged into the cellar the biggest box he could find.

There by the flickering light of a plumber's candle he crammed her body into the box, nailed on the cover and sprinkled more holy water over it.

He told the children their mother had gone to Detroit on a visit, and hired a truck man, Angelo Cunniff, to haul the box out to the lake.

Dismissing the cart man, he dug the grave. Into it he lowered the box, once more sprinkling holy water from his neighboring church and filled the grave with earth.

Then began the torture of his conscience. He could not eat. Food gagged him. The children asked questions continually and angrily drove him mad. When he fell asleep he was haunted by the scene in the cellar.

$150,000 Plot Spiked

in Leavenworth Prison

Leavenworth, Kan.—Efforts of a prisoner to avoid payment of a long-distance telephone toll led to the discovery of a conspiracy by convicts in the federal penitentiary here to swindle the government out of upward of $150,000. Warden W. I. Biddle announced on completion of an investigation into the plot.

One of the prisoners, Jesse L. Greer, committed from Colorado for robbing the mails, tried to save himself the tolls by charging the call to the warden and later altering the bill from the telephone company to make it appear that the call was a call to a St. Louis business firm. The warden discovered the alteration, Greer had been able to forge the names of prison officials on fake invoices, and obtained a check made out to a fictitious business firm in Denver.

George W. Aimes, a prisoner who was paroled early in the month, received the check at a Denver hotel and presented it to a Colorado bank. The check, drawn for $100.01, would have been honored, prison officials say, if the fraud had not been discovered.

An enlarged liver weighing 150 ounces was found in the body of a man who recently died at Newport. The organ was three times the normal size. The doctor said he had never before seen anything like it. Death was due to toxemia, following multiple abscesses.

Burgess Is Host to Supervisors

The Lake County Board of Supervisors, county judges, and other officials were guests Thursday noon at a dinner at the Lake County poor farm. The official body made a thorough inspection of the buildings and grounds preceding the dinner in order that each and every supervisor will know the true condition of the poor farm.

Supervisor Praised

Philo Burgess, supervisor of the institution, and Mrs. Burgess, received high praise from chairman Ray Paddock and board for the satisfactory condition of the buildings. Never has the poor farm been in such excellent condition considering the handicaps which have to be contended with, was the expression of the Board in general.

No official business was taken up at the gathering but several informal talks were made by the supervisor.

test Gift!

the finest sensitive than the basis of human eye is in the saving of thousands of dollars for the county was discussed by Supervisor Arthur Vercoe, of Highland Park, head of the finance committee.

Plan New Jury System

Inauguration of a new jury system in which a saving of several hundred dollars would be realized to the county each year was proposed by Judges Claire Edwards and Perry L. Persons.

It was pointed out by the two jurists that many times professional men who are exempt from serving in jury service by law are often times called only to be excused, resulting in unnecessary expenditure of money appropriated to pay jury fees.

During the past fiscal year about $13,000 was used in excess of the appropriation allowed to pay jurymen for their service, it was pointed out.

The supervisors are giving the suggested new jury systems their serious consideration and immediate action is expected to result.

The inmates of the poor farm are being accorded better treatment than ever before the supervisors present declared. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess were thanked on behalf of the county for the kind, humane treatment they are so careful to see that the inmates receive.

Sale Not Mentioned

The proposed sale of the county farm and the erection of new buildings on another location, which has been a problem and a subject of discussion of the Supervisors many years, was not mentioned.

The board in the past has been divided on the proposition of selling the present poor farm site, but late it has been indicated that a majority of the members would favor the sale of the property, if the proper price can be obtained.

Last year Supervisor B. C. Thompson, of Zion, chairman of the poor farm committee and several other board members attempted to have the board put through a resolution providing for the calling of an election on a bond issue project to construct new buildings on the present site. The measure was voted down, however.—Lake County Register.

Sober, Brave, Agile, Free, Is Bedouin Code

Salkhad, Djebel Druze.—Sober as a camel, brave as a lion, agile as the gazelle, and more than all of them free and independent, is the description which the Bedouin, son of the desert, applies to himself.

"True as a die," is an addition which Nackri Bey, one of the most powerful chiefs of the Bedouin tribesmen in Trans-Jordan, would like to have added to the description.

For centuries the Bedouins have conducted raids on their neighbors, playing no favorites and sparing no one. The Druzes themselves, great warriors that they are, receive frequent visits from the flying horsemen.

Weds Impostor as Old

Friend; Seeks Divorce

New York.—She thought she was marrying a sweetheart of school days, but has learned her husband is an entirely different person, who kept his real identity a secret, Marion Wien, twenty-four, Newark, N. J., declared in a suit brought in Chancery court to have her marriage annulled.

Ten years ago, Miss Wien set forth, she was a pupil in St. John's parochial school. Among the pupils was a boy named Cyril Devine. When graduated, she says in her petition, she lost all track of Cyril.

Then one day in June, 1924, as she sat at the window of her father's store, a man sought the shelter of the awning outside during a shower. She invited him in, thinking he was Cyril Devine. She called him Cyril Devine and he accepted the name. The supposedly renewed acquaintanceship led to marriage January 6, 1925.

Dogs Fight Policeman, Guard Dying Master

Milwaukee.—Standing on guard over their dying master, two hounds fought off police for some time and then succumbed to the suffering man.

The dogs' master, David Hughes, eighty-six, died at Emergency hospital from heart disease an hour after he had been taken from his faithful guardians.

Having been forced to retreat, both animals lay on Hughes' body, but were finally driven off and their master taken to the hospital. It was evident that both animals had been suffering from hunger and thirst for some time.

When You Putty Windows

To make a neater job in puttying windows, cut a small groove in your putty knife about one-half an inch from one corner. This groove rides in the corners of the wood, while the point of the blade rests on the glass. When pushed down hard the knife will not slip, and a straight line of putty is insured, says the Popular Science Magazine.

Wheat Oldest Food

Wheat no longer occurs in a wild state and its origin remains obscure, although it is known to have been an important food crop in ancient Egypt and in Palestine, also among the lake dwellers of Switzerland, wheat grains being found commonly in various archeological remains. The largest yield of wheat per acre is said at present to be produced by Great Britain, although the United States exceeds all other countries in the total annual output.

Eighteen Birthday Anniversary
Miss Marie Louise Venn Entertains
Friends at Their Summer Home.

Mrs. Charles Venn of Chicago gave a lawn party at her beautiful summer home on the island at Lake Marie on Thursday afternoon of last week in honor of the eighteen birthday anniversary of her daughter, Marie Louise. The lawn was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the soft strains of music could be heard stealing out on the summer air to mingle with the merry laughter of the party. Guests to the number of thirty were present from Chicago and other places. Games were indulged in and the whole scene was one of light, mirth, and beauty. Dainty refreshments were served in a novel manner and in every way the afternoon was one that will linger in the minds of those present, and as each guest departed it was with the expressed wish that they might all be permitted to assist Miss Venn in celebrating many more happy anniversaries.

There is a movement on foot to open a waterway from Twin Lakes to Richmond, says the Richmond Gazette. The plan is to open a wide ditch from the south end of the lower lake to Nippersink at a point below Richmond. Then a dam will be constructed on the Nippersink near the junction of the ditch and stream. This will raise the water in the creek between the dam and Richmond and will also rise the water in Twin Lakes.

Miss Maude Brogan, of Kenosha visited with her mother at this place a few days this week.

Cured by King

King George IV cured Gen. Sir George Higginson of smoking. General Higginson recalled on his one hundredth birthday recently that when he was a child the king noticed him in his perambulator one day and, for a joke, since the child was staring at the king's cigar, put it to the baby's lips. The nauseous impression stayed with him all his life, Sir George stated.

Naturally

When a girl engages herself to wed a poet, it is usually a mark of impracticability. Mary, however, showed that she had a level head on her shoulders when she announced her engagement to her employer. "So you're going to marry a poet?" he said. "Then I suppose you'll leave me." "Oh, no," Mary protested. "I don't intend to leave. But I'll need more salary."
